Our exclusive itinerary reveals an extraordinary cultural legacy spanning four countries—Italy, Croatia, Montenegro, and Greece.

Begin your journey in Venice, where you will board the five-star, small ship L'AUSTRAL, featuring just 110 ocean-view suites and staterooms. Cruise along the Adriatic coast of the stunning region of Dalmatia and conclude in Athens, the cradle of Western civilization.

Call at ancient walled cities, medieval villages, sublime archaeological sites, picture-perfect islands, and stunning landscapes. Visit five UNESCO World Heritage Sites, including historical Split, with its fourth-century Palace of Diocletian; the seventh-century walled city of Dubrovnik; the elegant island capital of Corfu's Old Town; and the historic Delphi and its iconic Doric columns.

Croatian Klapa

Klapa, a form of a cappella singing, translates to “a group of friends,” and began as a way of socializing, bringing people together, and passing down oral history. With origins in Dalmatia, Croatia, klapa music traces its roots to littoral church singing, with motifs celebrating love, life, homeland, and the environment in which the singers live. Multi-part singing, a cappella homophonic singing, oral tradition, and simple music making are its main features. Performed in a group of about 4 to 10 people, wearing traditional outfits accented with a red sash and standing in a tight semicircle, the leader takes the role of first tenor, followed by several tenor, baritone, and bass voices. The voices blend to create a beautiful, melodious performance. Although once reserved strictly for male singers, it is now common to see all-female or mixed groups singing klapa. Inscribed in 2012 as a UNESCO Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity, klapa is regarded by local cultures as a marker of their musical identity, celebrating respect for diversity, creativity, and communication.

DISCOVER THE DALMATIAN COAST

The glorious Dalmatian Coast has a storied history that is entwined with the conquests of the Greeks and the Romans. The name “Dalmatia” appeared as early as the first century B.C., believed to have originated from an ancient Illyrian tribe known as Delmatae. The region fell under many rulers over the centuries and today is considered one of the most beautiful coastlines in the world. Its medieval cities and archaeological treasures have been infused with a cosmopolitan energy, inviting visitors to discover mysterious origins that span millennia. Among those enigmas is the tale of one of the earliest known depictions of a dog in an early 17th century painting found in a Dalmatia city—a breed the World Canine Association aptly designated as the Dalmatian.
